Miss Anna Davies Married to Dr. Stephen S. Watson, of Moosic—Other Nuptial Knots Tied.

Miss Anna Davies, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abner Jones, of 905 Elyon street, was wedded to Dr. Stephen S. Watson, of Moosic, yesterday morning at 11 o'clock. It was a modest home wedding and only the immediate family were present to witness the ceremony which was performed in the handsomely decorated second parlor of the bride's home. Chrysanthemums, roses and potted plants formed the decorations and added fragrance and beauty to the impressive moment. The marriage ceremony of the Baptist church was performed by Dr. H. H. Harris, pastor of the Taylor Baptist church.

The bride accompanied by the groom stepped into the room to the strains of Lohengrin's march played by Mrs. D. R. Thomas. Mrs. Thomas played "Oh, Promise Me" while the marriage ceremony was being performed. The couple were unattended and the bride was attired in blue with white satin and steel trimmings. She carried chrysanthemums. A post-nuptial repast was served. Dr. and Mrs. Watson departed on their wedding tour via the 12.50 Delaware, Lackawanna and Western for New York city and other points. They will visit Dr. Watson's parents at Froston, Hollow, N. Y., before returning. They will reside at Moosic where the doctor enjoys a lucrative practice. Great Break In Cloak Prices

Today we confine our remarks to top-notch, high-grade jackets, Blouses and Collarettes, but as you know we've got Cloaks, etc., at all prices, and the reductions here spoken of affect every garment in the department. In other words, the price break begins with the finest garments in the place and runs right down till the Capes and Jackets, that sold at $2.00 or $3.00, are reached and in all cases the new price is far, far below what it was a week ago.

In Our Cloak Department

Our constant aim has been to produce as finely finished garments as skilled labor could turn out. Year by year the betterment has been obvious to the most casual observer, and now we think the limit of perfection in tailoring, cutting and finishing has been reached. In a word, if the get up or materials used in the manufacture of the jackets, blouses, and we are about to mention in detail can be improved upon, we want to know the how and the where.

OBSERVANCE OF THE DAY.

Many Persons Spent the Greater Part of it in the Churches.

Yesterday, so far as the day was concerned, was very quiet. The stores, shops, mines and factories were all closed. Then, too, many of the West Scranton people either attended central city affairs or spent the day with friends out of town. However, the evening hours were fraught with more outward observance of the day's customary festivities. Many of the churches had entertainments or served suppers and socials were held in the different halls. At the Simpson Methodist church the Simpson chapter of Epworth leaguers entertained their friends with an excellent programme. The novel part of the affair was the manner of admitting. Each single admission was 12 cents, while two would go in for a quarter. Following the exercises, light refreshments, consisting of cake and cream, were served. The members of the Bible class of the Washburn Street Presbyterian church and Sabbath school carried out their fine programme to the enjoyment of those present. W. T. Burral acted as chairman. The exercises were followed by an hour of social discourse. The members of the Sherman avenue mission enjoyed themselves and entertained their friends at the mission by giving a pleasing entertainment and following with a social. Miss Della P. Evans acted as chairman and the exercises were opened with singing by the congregation. The chairman made a short address of welcome. An exceedingly entertaining programme was given by the young people of the Scranton Street Baptist church in the church parlors. The purpose of the rally was the distribution of cards which when signed became pledges. Each person pledged themselves to give a certain amount during the coming year toward paying of the church debt of $12,000. It was intended to raise $3,000 last evening and the amount signed was very close to that figure. The pastor, Rev. Thomas De Gruchy, presided and was assisted by the following committee: David J. Wilkins, J. S. Harris, Alfred Roberts, Edward Collins, and John Thomas. The supper was served at the Chestnut Street German Presbyterian and the Hampton Street Methodist churches. There was a good attendance at both places. In St. David's hall the members of St. Leo's Tourist club conducted their first annual ball. The hall was prettily decorated and Leo Crossin furnished excellent dance music. There were about seventy-five couples present. The Lincoln Social club held their first annual ball in Mearns' hall. There was a large crowd and dancing was enjoyed. Miss Mamie Sheerin providing the music for the occasion.

WILLIAMS BOY FOUND.

Police of Wilkes-Barre Picked Him Up Yesterday.

Willie Williams, a lad about 12 years of age, and son of D. F. Williams, of 435 Tenth street, has been found. Day Patrolman Thomas Lowry was notified from headquarters yesterday to let Mr. Williams know that his son had been picked up in Wilkes-Barre early yesterday morning by the police. The father said his son had been away since Monday "Oh, we took a look for him," said he, "but we didn't know he was here. All right, mister, we'll go down for him," he concluded. It will be remembered by readers of The Tribune that this same youth set the police a moving about a month ago. He went into the fire room at the M. Pleasant shaft, complained of a headache to the fireman, and laid down to rest. His appearance and manner of speaking frightened the fireman and he sent word to the West Side station house that a young lad was dying at the fire room. The boy revived and went home.

These thirteen delinquents were Tipstaff "Pop" Ritter and the twelve good men and true, who went out at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon to formally find a verdict directed by Judge Archibald in the case of Webster against Widmayer.

The judge was quite confident that they would overcome their difficulties early in the evening and that they might not be compelled to stay together overnight, he convened a night session of court to receive their verdict. At 9 o'clock they had not yet agreed so the judge shut up shop and went home, having previously instructed the tipstaff not to allow them to seal a verdict and separate.

Yesterday morning about 9 o'clock the judge citizens again and sent notes to the jurors that they were ready to receive their verdict. They came in and reported that they had not agreed, and there appeared to be no possibility of reaching a verdict. Judge Archibald said he was sorry, but he could not discharge them, and then sent them back to wrangle some more. Again at 11 o'clock he sent them word that he would take their verdict and give them an opportunity of getting home for their Thanksgiving dinner, and again they came in and declared that it was impossible for them to get together. "You will have to agree, gentlemen," said Judge Archibald, and once more, slowly and sadly, they climbed the stairs to their room on the third floor.

It was hinted that the jury stood eleven to one in favor of following court's directions, and a proposition was made that the verdict of the eleven be taken. But Burgess, who had the defense, was consulted, but he would not agree and this plan of relieving the imprisoned men failed. As it was now past dinner time Judge Archibald, all out of patience, threw off the reins and let them to their fate. At an early hour this morning they were still as widely apart as ever.

From the beginning the jury has stood ten for following the judge's directions and two against. One of the two was willing to come over to the other twelve, and they would see skating atop of Hades street. Forty-four ballots had been taken up to supper time yesterday.
